We take the question "what do you want to be when you grow up?" very seriously and believe that the path to achieving that dream starts early.

That's why our competitive events help students prepare for their future careers by providing them with the opportunity to showcase their mastery of key concepts, apply classroom ideas to the real world, and receive recognition for their hard work.

Your child will discover the excitement of using their imagination and bring ideas to reality while developing lifelong skills essential to their future success in the global workplace.

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?

Students in grades K-12 can participate in CED&P programs offered through their school.

New York State grades 3-12 students can take part in the competitive events.

HOW TO JOIN?

Speak with your child's teacher and/or a school administrator.

If your child's school does not have a CED&P program, share details with them and encourage them to start one.
